

Greg Dixon
Director - Leadership & Wellbeing
Practice Lead

Greg Dixon is a Director for Wilson Consulting Group and specialises in the development and delivery of mental health and wellbeing programs.

Greg has 15 years' experience in professional services and human resource consulting as well as 15 years' experience working in manufacturing organisations across Australia and New Zealand.

Greg's broad industry experience includes primary production, timber processing, building materials and construction, printing and packaging, FMCG, industrial electronics, IT and telecommunications, banking and finance.

Greg specialises and works with many Wilson Consulting Group clients to offer the following services:

- Executive Coaching
- Facilitation and mediation
- Mental Health in the workplace
- Career transition management
- Organisational behaviour and team development
- Leadership development

Greg's Qualifications include:

- Master of Analytical Psychology – University of Western Sydney
- Graduate Diploma in Counseling for Health and Social Care – University of New England
- Bachelor of Arts (Psychology and Management Studies) – University of Auckland
- Professional Development Certificate in Executive Coaching (Sydney University Coaching Unit)
- Registered member of Australian Counselling Association (ACA)
- Accredited Mental Health First Aid Facilitator – Mental Health First Aid Australia